14th Annual Computer Security Incident Handling Conference
Sponsorship Opportunities

June 24-28, 2002

Hilton Waikoloa Beach Village,
Hawaii, U.S.A.
The Forum of Incident Response and Security Teams (FIRST), will hold its 14th annual international conference at the Hilton Waikoloa Beach Village, Hawaii, U.S.A., June 24-28, 2002. Last year’s conference in Toulouse, France attracted well over 300 attendees, from more than 30 countries. Interest in our conferences continues to grow. Given the wonderful setting for this year’s conference we expect attendance to increase further.

This event provides a prime opportunity for those in the operating system, computer security and networking, and telecommunications industries to gain focused access to a highly influential group of computer security incident response experts from around the world. The conference attendees commonly provide computer security advice within their own Computer Security Incident Response Teams (CSIRTs) and work with their team’s constituencies to suggest appropriate security strategies and appropriate technical solutions to computer security problems. FIRST conferences have a unique focus on the field of computer security incident handling and response. The conference is international in scope and attendance, with presentations on the latest in incident response and prevention, vulnerability analysis, and computer security, given by recognized experts in the field of computer security. Additionally, these events serve as the foundation for the improvement of computer security worldwide by sharing goals, ideas, and information.

The 14th FIRST conference will continue to promote FIRST organization goals of worldwide coordination and cooperation. Attendance will include representatives from FIRST (currently over 90 member teams) in addition to policy and decision-makers, security technology innovators, site security contacts, system and network administrators. The combined international constituency served by the FIRST member teams alone is enormous, reaching into the millions. The majority of the teams and organizations represented at the conference suggest security strategies, provide technical solutions to security problems and deliver security education and training to their constituents.

First.Org, Inc., is a not for profit corporation that provides support for the FIRST organization, First.Org, Inc. In order to ensure that First.Org, Inc’s limited funds are sufficient to support its mission and to attract and increased number of registrants at an affordable fee, we are seeking conference sponsorship. We are seeking organizations that are committed to computer security improvement and are concerned about the security infrastructure of the Internet and associated communications elements to participate in this conference as a sponsor.
Why be a Sponsor of the 14th FIRST Conference?

• You can reach an expected target audience of 300-400 attendees from around the world;

• Conference attendees expected to consist of o corporate decision makers with overall security responsibility;
  o senior managers who are directly charged with protecting their corporate infrastructure;
  o technical staff charged with determining security product needs/features and implementing effective solutions;

• Demonstrate your organization’s commitment to security improvement in a fast growing community of security practitioners.

Thank you for taking the time to read our sponsorship material. We look forward to hearing from you regarding your interest in these sponsorship opportunities and hope that they will be of interest to your business in 2002.
